

ANNEXE 6 : Prendre des Notes sur les Articles

By Janice L. Hewitt, Ph.D., The Cain Project, Rice University, 2005 jhewitt@rice.edu

Whenever you read an article, pertinent book chapter, or research on the web, use the following format (or something similar—LaTex or Endnote, for example) to make an electronic record of your notes for later easy access. You may think you'll remember everything you read in researching class assignments, professional papers, proposals, or your thesis, but details will slip away. The time spent filling out the form will help you understand the reading and will save you hours of rereading when you write a Background, Related Work, or a Literature Review section. Put quotation marks around any exact wording you write down so that you can avoid accidental plagiarism when you later cite the article.
